DUCK SEASON IS NOW OPEN

Wild Water Fowls May Be Killed Until April 30, State Says—Federal Law Different.

The open season for wild water fowls is now open in Missouri. It began yesterday and will not end until April 30, 1916, that is what the state officials say, but the federal law reads different. It says water fowls in Missouri shall be killed only from September 1 to December 15.

So although Uncle Sam said kill a duck two weeks ago, the state said "nit." Likewise next spring the state gives one privilege to kill a water fowl while Samuel does not.

Not only ducks may be hunted and killed now. It also includes geese, brant, snipe, black breasted and golden plover, greater and lesser yellowlegs, rails, coots and gallinules. Doves and squirrels also may be killed yet, so as soon as the ducks and other wild water fowls begin to appear the hunting season in Missouri should be great.

STATE WEATHER FAVORABLE

Warmer Weather and Light Rains Improved Crop Conditions in Missouri Past Week.
Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 16.—The week just closed was one of the warmest of the season, the mean temperature for the entire state averaging about 9 degrees above normal. The day temperatures ranged from about 85 degrees to slightly above 90 degrees, and the night values kept quite uniform between 65 degrees and 70 degrees.

Showers occurred on an average of four days; they were excessive, and locally damaging, in about twenty north-central counties extending from about Cass to Caldwell on the west to Calloway and Marion on the east. Elsewhere, however, the precipitation was moderate to light.

South of the Missouri river, where precipitation was light, threshing from the stack is about completed, but the heavy rains in the northern half of the state put a temporary stop to this work. The same conditions affected fall plowing, which is nearing completion in southern counties, and where considerable wheat already has been sown.

The week on the whole was favorable for corn, as the marked increase in warmth induced quite rapid progress toward maturity. A large percent of the crop, however, will require from two to three weeks or more dry, warm weather before it is wholly immune from frost. Farmers in many of the southern counties are now busy filling silos. In Scott, Mississippi and other adjacent counties much of the early planted corn has been harvested.

The fourth cutting of alfalfa is being secured. Cowpeas are promising, especially in the southeast. Pastures continue excellent, and cattle are in fine condition.

Apple picking has begun, and prospects are reported to be satisfactory.

WRITERS TO MEET IN OZARKS.

Missouri Guild and News Women to Hold Annual Gathering October First to Seventh.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, Sept. 16.—The Missouri Writers' guild and the Missouri Women's Press Association have decided to start something new in convention. For their annual fall meeting these two organizations will combine in a "back to nature" retreat in the Ozarks at Powersite, Mo., on Lake Taneycomo, October 1 to 7. For the seven days of the encampment the writers and authors will do nothing but have a good time. W. H. Hamby, president of the guild having drawn up rules that no essays shall be read, no formal discussions given on the foundation of literature, nobody will be required to attend any meeting or listen to anybody's speech, but everybody must come in "hilly-billy" costume on one night to an old fashioned dance.

Mrs. Alice Mary Kimball Godfrey of Kansas City, president of the Missouri Women's Press Association, who furnished the excitement of the fall meeting last year by eloping with a newspaper man, has promised to head an expedition to explore a newly discovered cave, during this outing.

The writers will spend two days floating on rafts down Lake Taneycomo and the White river. One night will be spent camping in tents. A hike to the historic town of Forsythe will furnish one day's entertainment. At night the members of the party will gather around campfires and talk, and the ambitious writers will gather inspiration from the successful ones. Efforts are being made to have Winston Churchill, Rupert Hughes, and other celebrated writers present.

HOBOS QUESTION PUZZLES CITY.

Effort Being Made to Rid Chillicothe of Undesirable "Visitors."

A question which is causing Mayor Hawkins and the members of the city council of Chillicothe considerable trouble at present is the tramp question. At a meeting of the council this week the question was taken up and discussed pro and con and as no definite solution was reached the mayor and the members of the council as individual citizens will study the problem during the week and next Monday it is likely some definite plan will be adopted to handle the hobos.

"The main idea is to keep the hobos from coming here," said Mayor Hawkins and Police Judge F. E. Riley, in discussing the question.

ADDRESS OF J. M. PIERCE.

Former Resident Tells of Many Experiences and Speaks of Many Pioneer Settlers Here.

This week's Hopkins Journal, edited by W. L. Moorehead, contains the address of James M. Pierce, Des Moines, publisher of Pierce's Farm Weeklies, at Ravenwood on Saturday, August 28, at the Farmer's Jubilee Picnic. The subject of the address was the building of an empire, the empire which he spoke of being Nodaway, Gentry and Worth counties in particular.

Mr. Pierce came to Worth county from Ohio when he was 9 years old and soon after was the owner and publisher of the Grant City Star for nearly five years, after which time he went over to Hopkins and established the Journal, the first issue appearing on the 14th of February, 1875.

In Mr. Pierce's address he told of many experiences here and also spoke of a number of pioneers of that day and also paid a tribute to his friend, the late George P. Bellows.

A part of the address follows:

Gradually my acquaintance extended to neighboring towns. I came to know many of the people of Nodaway county, and I often think of the men of those earlier days and the part they played in the upbuilding of this splendid empire. In Maryville there was Joe Jackson, for a number of years county clerk, now enjoying a ripe old age as one of Maryville's leading bankers. Then there was Judge Moorehouse, John Edwards, Lafe Dawson (the first governor of Alaska, appointed during the Cleveland administration) Judge Anthony, a well-known lawyer; Lieut. Governor Moorehouse and M. G. Roseberry, with all of whom I became more or less intimately acquainted.

I cannot let this opportunity pass without paying tribute to a man whose memory is hallowed by us all, and especially many of you still living in Ravenwood and vicinity, a man whose business association and personal friendship remain among the sweetest memories of my life. It was my good fortune in August, 1893, to meet this man and to form a business connection with him which lasted for eleven years, our friendship terminating only with his death. I refer to the late George P. Bellows. A prince among men, he came and went in all our homes an ever-honored guest. I am not exaggerating when I say there are hundreds of pure-bred live-stock farm homes in the middle West where no man's coming was more anticipated or more enjoyed than George Bellows'. He had friends everywhere, as far east as Hamilton and Ottawa, Canada; as far west as the Pacific coast. The soul of honor business association with him was a constant joy. It was of such as him that the poet wrote:

He was a man, take him for all and all,
I shall not look upon his like again.
We who knew him best loved him best; we do well to remember him today, for memories of him are among our richest heritage. Memories of the early newspaper men of Maryville are still fresh in my mind. There was B. A. Dunn, of the old Maryville Republican, later on living at Waukegan, Illinois. Then there was Jim

A good farm of 133 1/2 acres, unimproved but in high state of cultivation, located eight miles from Oseola, St. Clair County, Missouri. This is a good opportunity for some one to get good land cheap and make a nice home of it.

All four of the above farms are desirable and should quickly interest some one wanting a home. Terms of payment can be arranged to suit purchaser. Quit renting and own your own home.

Please Pass the Mint.

A few days ago the Republican asked Why is a mint bed in Kansas, or words to that effect. A man comes into this office and explains to us the why and wherefore of his perfectly good mint bed. He says that mint is good for more than one thing, that sticking up out of a glass along with cracked ice and some other things is not the sole mission of mint. Mint chopped up and cooked with peas or new potatoes is a very choice dish, or cooked with both it is good. Back in England the housewife often puts some of the green sprig in these two dishes. The reader will please note that our informant comes from England. Then we all know or should know, that mint is delicious made into sauce with vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper to put on a leg of lamb. We really are getting up on the uses of mint.—Eldorado Republican.

Every door frame is Malleable iron, every angle bar is Malleable iron.

The Body of The Monarch
The inside wall is annealed steel, the center wall is of asbestos stove board, the outer wall of American planished steel.

WHAT IS MALLEABLE IRON?

The best soft gray cast iron annealed and when thoroughly annealed becomes the best heat transmitting and resisting iron used in range construction. Every joint in the Monarch is riveted and is gas and air tight. The rivets are of the same textural temperment as the material they hold together thus making the expansion equal. The construction of the fire box either makes or destroys the life and efficiency of the range and this is the Monarch's strongest point. Let us show you why.

ALLIGATORS' BILL.

Worries the Town Council of Anderson, Ind.

Anderson, Ind.—Two small alligators, each about three feet long, but nearly twenty-five years old, are causing the city water department some concern because of their meat bill, although the cost has averaged not more than $20 a year.

The last bill just presented for meat was $15, and because that bill was for only one feed City Clerk Collins and City Comptroller Richter were astonished. It was explained, however, that the alligators had fasted since October last. It is regarded doubtful whether the alligators will again manifest hunger until next spring, but the records show that perfectly good meat for the two alligators has cost the city about $400.

Columbus, O.—Cupid's business in Ohio was all shot full of holes last year. And that's 2,501 pairs fewer than were wedded in Ohio in the previous year and 300 fewer than 1912, when the population was much smaller.

Doesn't Like Water.

Marion, Ind.—John Dinkle, arrested for vagrancy, told the police he had not taken a bath for seventeen years. When he was turned over to O. P. ## An Offer By Local Druggists

Now Have New "External" Treatment That They Are Selling on 30 Days' Trial.

Money Refunded If It Does Not Relieve Cold Troubles Quicker Than Internal Medicines.

The leading druggists, whose names are given below, have recently imported from the South the new external treatment, known as Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve. No one knows better than the trained chemist the unimpaired effect of "internal" medicines, especially on children. In order to demonstrate to their customers the advantages of this external treatment, these druggists have arranged to sell Vick's in either 25c, 50c, or $1.00 sizes on 30 days' trial, giving with each sale a refund blank, good for your money back if you are not delighted.

For croup and cold troubles Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" is applied over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The vapors released by the body heat quickly loosen the choking phlegm, and clear the air passages. In severe cases, first apply hot wet towels to open the pores. Vick's is then absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness. Croup is usually relieved in fifteen minutes, and the worst colds commonly occur night.

This double treatment—absorption through the skin and inhalation as a vapor, makes Vick's useful for a wide range of troubles, from head colds, asthma and catarrh, down to sore throat, bronchitis, hacking coughs and deep chest colds.

Miss Eugenie Besserer Arrived in New York City With Just 25 Cents—Now a Star in Pictures

Miss Eugenie Besserer, the French emotional actress, had a long experience in the spoken drama before she became a star in motion pictures. She has appeared in the support of Nance O'Neill, Wilton Lackaye and Frank Keenan.

Miss Besserer is perhaps the most versatile of motion picture stars, and her appearance in the leading role in Selig Diamond Specials "The Smoldering" and "The Melody of Doom," created world-wide attention. In the following article Miss Besserer tells over her own signature her experiences as an actress.—Editorial Note.

By EUGENIE BESSERER.

You may talk all you please about the "dignity of the stage," but do not forget the "dignity of the motion picture." Not so long ago it was considered undignified to leave the spoken stage for the silent stage. Those having the temerity to leave the stage for the movies were cause for commiseration. "Miss Jenkins, I see, has gone to the movies, well, well!" Now the shoe is on the other foot. The exclamation may soon be heard: "Miss Jenkins, the well-known movie actress, has returned to the stage, well, well!" To paraphrase an old song: "It shows what a difference just a few years make!"

I was born in Paris, but was taken by my parents to Ottawa, Canada, early in life and I spent my girlhood in Canada. Unfortunately I was left an orphan and later, at the age of 12 years, I escaped from my guardians and found myself an absolute stranger, in the great city of New York, in the Grand Central Station, with 25 cents in Canadian money in my pocket. Through the kindly aid of a street car conductor and a directory, I succeeded in locating a former Governess whose name I happily remembered. This kindly lady was delighted to see me and with her aid, I discovered the residence of an uncle, with whom I took up my abode.

"I continued my studies and became quite proficient in athletics. I took lessons in fencing and became rather proficient. I shall always remember that I held my own with no less an accomplished swordsman than the late Alexander Salvini.

I had always an ambition to go on the stage, and my first theatrical experience was with McKee Rankin, when he was starring Nance O'Neill. Following this I played engagements with Wilton Lackaye and Frank Keenan, and then came a season in stock at Pike's Opera House, in Cincinnati. Another season I played in drama opposite Henry J. Kolker.

I became wearied of stage life, with its hardships, traveling and hotel life, and again took up the art of fencing at the Berkley Lyceum in New York City. Alice Roosevelt Longworth was one of my pupils. I then again returned to emotional roles on the stage, was fortunate enough to attract the attention of Margaret Anglin and was taken by her as an understudy to Australia.

When I was eleven years of age I tried my hand at play writing and wrote a drama which was successfully produced. I am also the author of a number of vaudeville successes, notably a fencing playlet, called "An Accident."

The illness of my sister brought me to California. There I became interested as a professional in the artistic possibilities of the motion pictures and concluded to locate in the Golden State, naturally selecting the Selig Polyscope Company as the most desirable association.

It is not only good looks that count for success in motion picture work, one must have physical endurance, a capacity for the hardest kind of labor, and a willingness to follow the mandates of the Director. No matter how long an experience one may have had in dramatic work, no matter how versatile the artist may be, the Director's word in motion picture production is law.

I remember one versatile actor in the cast of "The Circular Staircase," released in five acts as a Selig Red Seal Play. This actor has had many years of experience in the spoken drama. He came to the screen with knowledge of his experience and with knowledge of his own importance. He was not inclined to observe the orders of the Director. The Director selects the types, he selects the costumes to be worn, he orders the entrances and the exits, and little is left to the artist. This particular actor could not understand this procedure. He had been accustomed to having his own way on the stage and there was many a tilt before he could appreciate that movie action must be done as the Director orders, for the Director of Motion Picture production is all responsible and all supreme.

I was delighted to be assigned the character lead as "Aunt Ray Innis" in Mary Roberts Rinehart's great mystery story, "The Circular Staircase." I felt that I was fitted to such a part. As you will probably remember, "Aunt Ray" leases a banker's home. She is a woman with the courage of her own convictions, and when warned to remain away from the summer house she is more resolved to remain right there.

"Aunt Ray" and her servant are aroused at 3 a. m. by the sound of a revolver shot. They venture forth, find the men folks have disappeared, and "Aunt Ray" is horrified to discover a lifeless body huddled in the dark shadows at the foot of the circular staircase from which the five-part production takes its name. The action starts right then and there and is never finished until the final scene where the lovers are reunited.

There is a scene in which I am supposed to do battle with a mysterious stranger in a secret room which I have discovered by means of a tape measure. There is nothing supposititious about this conflict, either. "Put the pepper into this fight," ordered the Director. When it was finished the unfortunate actor in the struggle had his shirt partially torn from his back. To all intents and purposes it was a real fight, and the actor had difficulty in escaping my clutches and springing to the circular staircase. Then to top it all off, the unfortunate individual had to plunge headfirst down the staircase to his supposed death, and he certainly had earned his money after the day's work was concluded.

I think I have put my very best art into the character of "Aunt Ray Innis" in "The Selig Red Seal Play, 'The Circular Staircase.' I have always been a great admirer of Mrs. Rinehart's writings, and there is every opportunity to put forth one's best endeavors in this story.

A majority of the artists say that motion picture acting is the hardest kind of work. I never deemed it so. I try to forget myself in my part, throw my entire personality into the roles I create and I love the work.

However, it is an art that cannot be acquired by any "school" other than the school of long experience. Actors of years of experience on the stage are the more successful because they have a foundation upon which to work.

DUCK SEASON IS NOW OPEN

Wild Water Fowls May Be Killed Until April 30, State Says—Federal Law Different.

The open season for wild water fowls is now open in Missouri. It began yesterday and will not end until April 30, 1916, that is what the state officials say, but the federal law reads different. It says water fowls in Missouri shall be killed only from September 1 to December 15.

So although Uncle Sam said kill a duck two weeks ago, the state said "nit." Likewise next spring the state gives one privilege to kill a water fowl while Samuel does not.

Not only ducks may be hunted and killed now. It also includes geese, brant, snipe, black breasted and golden plover, greater and lesser yellow legs, rails, coots and gallinules. Doves and squirrels also may be killed yet, so as soon as the ducks and other wild water fowls begin to appear the hunting season in Missouri should be great.

The members of the City Federation of Women's clubs have inaugurated a most active campaign for boosting the special edition of the Democrat-Forum which they will issue Saturday of next week for the benefit of the rest room.

The following is a copy of the bulletin they have distributed all over the city:

"On Saturday, September, 25 the City Federation of Women's Clubs will edit and control a special edition of the Daily Democrat-Forum for the benefit of the Rest Room. The life of the Rest Room hangs upon the efforts we are making for its continuance.

"We, of course, all want this edition to be a success. It is an unusual opportunity. Success means a big addition to our treasury but it also means work for all of us for the coming two weeks. Will you give us your help?

"Arrangements are being made for an interesting paper and we believe a highly creditable one. To serve our purpose it must also be a business or financial success. We want advertising, job printing, subscribers and a large sale of this special edition.

"Help the advertising committee. Ask those with whom you deal to give it advertising and printing. Help the subscription committee. If every member of the federated clubs will secure us at least one yearly subscriber, it will add many dollars to our treasury. If you are already a subscriber, get a friend to subscribe.

"The very best efforts of our very best people will be put into this venture. You will want several extra papers to keep and send to friends. Orders for extra papers should be placed in advance. It will be sold at 5c the copy.

"Place your orders for papers and subscribers with Mrs. Van Cleave, Hanam phone 3351 or with our solicitor direct or through our ward assistants.

"Following are the names of the ladies who have consented to serve on the committees. They will appreciate your suggestions and your help in any and every way.

NEW HOPE TO HAVE DINNER.

Rural Church Plans Community Picnic Sunday.—Revival Now on There.
A basket dinner and community picnic is to be held at the New Hope church six miles east of Hopkins next Sunday, according to R. R. Watts, pastor. A revival is now in progress at that church, being conducted by the Rev. A. H. Kirkland, superintendent of district missions for the Baptist churches of northwest Missouri.

Members of the county court made an inspection trip over Jackson township yesterday afternoon to determine where culvert and bridge improvements are most needed. The court intends to do away with two culverts north of Ravenwood by buying an acre of ground and changing the road.

ACTION OF SINGLE SPOONFUL SURPRISES MANY.

Maryville people who bought the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-I-ka, are surprised at the instant effect of a single spoonful. This remedy is so complete a bowel cleanser that it is used successfully in appendicitis. Adler-I-ka acts on both upper and lower bowel and one spoonful relieves almost any case of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. One minute after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. ## STATE WEATHER FAVORABLE

Warmer Weather and Light Rains Improved Crop Conditions in Missouri Past Week.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.
Columbia, Mo., Sept. 16.—The week just closed was one of the warmest of the season, the mean temperature for the entire state averaging about 9 degrees above normal. The day temperatures ranged from about 85 degrees to slightly above 90 degrees, and the night values kept quite uniform between 65 degrees and 70 degrees.

Showers occurred on an average of four days; they were excessive, and locally damaging, in about twenty north-central counties extending from about Cass to Caldwell on the west to Calloway and Marion on the east. Elsewhere, however, the precipitation was moderate to light.

South of the Missouri river, where precipitation was light, threshing from the stack is about completed, but the heavy rains in the northern half of the state put a temporary stop to this work. The same conditions affected fall plowing, which is nearing completion in southern counties, and where considerable wheat already has been sown.

The week on the whole was favorable for corn, as the marked increase in warmth induced quite rapid progress toward maturity. A large percent of the crop, however, will require from two to three weeks or more dry, warm weather before it is wholly immune from frost. Farmers in many of the southern counties are now busy filling silos. In Scott, Mississippi and other adjacent counties much of the early planted corn has been harvested.

The fourth cutting of alfalfa is being secured. Cowpeas are promising, especially in the southeast. Pastures continue excellent, and cattle are in fine condition.

Apple picking has begun, and prospects are reported to be satisfactory.

WRITERS TO MEET IN OZARKS.

Missouri Guild and News Women to Hold Annual Gathering October First to Seventh.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, Sept. 16.—The Missouri Writers' guild and the Missouri Women's Press Association have decided to start something new in convention. For their annual fall meeting these two organizations will combine in a "back to nature" retreat in the Ozarks at Powersite, Mo., on Lake Taneycomo, October 1 to 7. For the seven days of the encampment the writers and authors will do nothing but have a good time. W. H. Hamby, president of the guild having drawn up rules that no essays shall be read, no formal discussions given on the foundation of literature, nobody will be required to attend any meeting or listen to anybody's speech, but everybody must come in "hilly-billy" costume on one night to an old fashioned dance.

Mrs. Alice Mary Kimball Godfrey of Kansas City, president of the Missouri Women's Press Association, who furnished the excitement of the fall meeting last year by eloping with a newspaper man, has promised to head an expedition to explore a newly discovered cave, during this outing.

The writers will spend two days floating on rafts down Lake Taneycomo and the White river. One night will be spent camping in tents. A hike to the historic town of Forsythe will furnish one day's entertainment. At night the members of the party will father around campfires and talk, and the ambitious writers will gather inspiration from the successful ones. Efforts are being made to have Winston Churchill, Rupert Hughes, and other celebrated writers present.

HOBOS QUESTION PUZZLES CITY.

Effort Being Made to Rid Chillicothe of Undesirable "Visitors."

A question which is causing Mayor Hawkins and the members of the city council of Chillicothe considerable trouble at present is the tramp question. At a meeting of the council this week the question was taken up and discussed pro and con and as no definite solution was reached the mayor and the members of the council as individual citizens will study the problem during the week and next Monday it is likely some definite plan will be adopted to handle the hobos.

"The main idea is to keep the hobos from coming here," said Mayor Hawkins and Police Judge F. E. Riley, in discussing the question.

ADDRESS OF J. M. PIERCE.

Former Resident Tells of Many Experiences and Speaks of Many Pioneer Settlers Here.

This week's Hopkins Journal, edited by W. L. Moorehead, contains the address of James M. Pierce, Des Moines, publisher of Pierce's Farm Weeklies, at Ravenwood on Saturday, August 28, at the Farmer's Jubilee Picnic. The subject of the address was the building of an empire, the empire which he spoke of being Nodaway, Gentry and Worth counties in particular. Mr. Pierce came to Worth county from Ohio when he was 9 years old and soon after was the owner and publisher of the Grant City Star for nearly five years, after which time he went over to Hopkins and established the Journal, the first issue appearing on the 15th of February, 1875.

In Mr. Pierce's address he told of many experiences here and also spoke of a number of pioneers of that day and also paid a tribute to his friend, the late George P. Bellows.

A part of the address follows: Gradually my acquaintance extended to neighboring towns. I came to know many of the people of Nodaway county, and I often think of the men of those earlier days and the part they played in the upbuilding of this splendid empire. In Maryville there was Joe Jackson, for a number of years county clerk, now enjoying a ripe old age as one of Maryville's leading bankers. Then there was Judge Moorehouse, John Edwards, Lefe Dawson (the first governor of Alaska, appointed during the Cleveland administration), Judge Anthony, a well-known lawyer; Lieut. Governor Moorehouse and M. G. Roseberry, with all of whom I became more or less intimately acquainted.

I cannot let this opportunity pass without paying tribute to a man whose memory is hallowed by us all, and especially many of you still living in Ravenwood and vicinity, a man whose business association and personal friendship remain among the sweetest memories of my life. It was my good fortune in August, 1893, to meet this man and to form a business connection with him which lasted for eleven years, our friendship terminating only with his death. I refer to the late George P. Bellows. A prince among men, he came and went in all our homes an ever-honored guest. I am not exaggerating when I say there are hundreds of pure bred live-stock farm homes in the middle West where no man's coming was more anticipated or more enjoyed than George Bellows'. He had friends everywhere, as far east as Hamilton and Ottawa, Canada; as far west as the Pacific coast. The soul of honor business association with him was a constant joy. It was of such as him that the poet wrote:

He was a man, take him for all and all,
I shall not look upon his like again.
We who knew him best loved him

best; we do well to remember him today, for memories of him are among our richest heritage.

Memories of the early newspaper men of Maryville are still fresh in my mind. There was B. A. Dunn, of the old Maryville Republican, later on living at Waukegan, Illinois. Then there was Jim Todd and Barney Condon, of the Maryville Democrat, and Curtis Wray of the Maryville Tribune. These men and hundreds of others have done their full part in developing this great, rich empire of northwest Missouri, oftentimes known in the early days as the rich Platte Purchase.

Please Pass the Mint.

A few days ago the Republican asked Why is a mint bed in Kansas, or words to that effect. A man comes into this office and explains to us the why and wherefore of his perfectly good mint bed. He says that mint is good for more than one thing, that sticking up out of a glass along with cracked ice and some other things is not the sole mission of mint. Mint chopped up and cooked with peas or new potatoes is a very choice dish, or cooked with both it is good. Back in England the housewife often puts some of the green sprig in these two dishes. The reader will please note that our informant comes from England. Then we all know or should know, that mint is delicious made into sauce with vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper to put on a leg of lamb. We really are getting up on the uses of mint.—Eldorado Republican.

The MONARCH In Course of Construction

Every door frame is Malleable iron, every angle bar is Malleable iron.

The Body of The Monarch
The inside wall is annealed steel, the center wall is of asbestos stove board, the outer wall of American planished steel.

WHAT IS MALLEABLE IRON?

The best soft gray cast iron annealed and when thoroughly annealed becomes the best heat transmitting and resisting iron used in range construction. Every joint in the Monarch is riveted and is gas and air tight. The rivets are of the same textural temperment as the material they hold together thus making the expansion equal. The construction of the fire box either makes or destroys the life and efficiency of the range and this is the Monarch's strongest point. Let us show you why.

ALLIGATORS' BILL.

Worries the Town Council of Anderson, Ind.

Anderson, Ind.—Two small alligators, each about three feet long, but nearly twenty-five years old, are causing the city water department some concern because of their meat bill, although the cost has averaged not more than $20 a year.

The last bill just presented for meat was $15, and because that bill was for only one feed City Clerk Collins and City Comptroller Richter were astonished. It was explained, however, that the alligators had fasted since October last. It is regarded doubtful whether the alligators will again manifest hunger until next spring, but the records show that perfectly good meat for the two alligators has cost the city about $100.

Say Dan Cupid Is Loafing.

Columbus, O.—Cupid's business in Ohio was all shot full of holes last year. Little Dan trapped only 47,000 Ohio pairs in the year ending April 1, 1915, according to figures given out by Secretary of State Hildebrand. And that's 2,501 pairs fewer than were wedded in Ohio in the previous year and 300 fewer than 1912, when the population was much smaller.

Doesn't Like Water.

Marion, Ind.—John Dinkle, arrested for vagrancy, told the police he had not taken a bath for seventeen years. When he was turned over to O. P. Wright, sheriff, it was directed a bath be given the man. Trustees of the jail applied soap and brushes, with the result that Dinkle received a scouring he will remember for some days.

An Offer By Local Druggists

Now Have New "External" Treatment That They Are Selling on 30 Days' Trial.

Money Refunded If It Does Not Relieve Cold Troubles Quicker Than Internal Medicines.

The leading druggists, whose names are given below, have recently imported from the South the new external treatment, known as Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve. No one knows better than the trained chemist the mercurious effect of "internal" medicines, especially on children. In order to demonstrate to their customers the advantages of this external treatment, these druggists have arranged to sell Vick's in either 25c, 50c, or $1.00 sizes on 30 days' trial, giving with each sale a refund blank, good for your money back if you are not delighted.

For croup and cold troubles Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" is applied over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The vapors released by the body heat quickly loosen the choking phlegm, and clear the air passages. In severe cases, first apply hot wet towels to open the pores. Vick's is then absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness. Croup is usually relieved in fifteen minutes, and the worst colds commonly occur night.

This double treatment—absorption through the skin and inhalation as a vapor, makes Vick's useful for a wide range of troubles, from head colds, asthma and catarrh, down to sore throat, bronchitis, hacking coughs and deep chest colds.

Miss Eugenie Besserer Arrived in New York City With Just 25 Cents—Now a Star in Pictures

Miss Eugenie Besserer, the French emotional actress, had a long experience in the spoken drama before she became a star in motion pictures. She has appeared in the support of Nance O'Neill, Wilton Lackaye and Frank Keenan.

"The Melody of Doom," created worldwide attention. In the following article Miss Besserer tells over her own signature her experiences as an actress.—Editorial Note.

By EUGENIE BESSERER.

You may talk all you please about the "dignity of the stage," but do not forget the "dignity of the motion picture." Not so long ago it was considered undignified to leave the spoken stage for the silent stage. Those having the temerity to leave the stage for the movies were cause for commiseration. "Miss Jenkins, I see, has gone to the movies, well, well!" Now the shoe is on the other foot. The exclamation may soon be heard: "Miss Jenkins, the well-known movie actress, has returned to the stage, well, well!" To paraphrase an old song: "It shows what a difference just a few years make!"

I was born in Paris, but was taken by my parents to Ottawa, Canada, early in life and I spent my girlhood in Canada. Unfortunately I was left an orphan and, later, at the age of 12 years, I escaped from my guardians and found myself an absolute stranger, in the great city of New York, in the Grand Central Station, with 25 cents in Canadian money in my pocket. Through the kindly aid of a street car conductor and a director, I succeeded in locating a former Governess whose name I happily remembered. This kindly lady was delighted to see me and with her aid, I discovered the residence of an uncle, with whom I took up my abode.

"I continued my studies and became quite proficient in athletics. I took lessons in fencing and became rather proficient. I shall always remember that I held my own with no less an accomplished swordsman than the late Alexander Salvini.

I had always an ambition to go on the stage, and my first theatrical experience was with McKee Rankin, when he was starring Nance O'Neill. Following this I played engagements with Wilton Lackaye and Frank Keenan, and then came a season in stock at Pike's Opera House, in Cincinnati. Another season I played in drama opposite Henry J. Kolker.

I became wearied of stage life, with its hardships, traveling and hotel life, and again took up the art of fencing at the Berkley Lyceum in New York City. Alice Roosevelt Longworth was one of my pupils. I then again returned to emotional roles on the stage, was fortunate enough to attract the attention of Margaret Anglin and was taken by her as an understudy to Australia.

When I was eighteen years of age I tried my hand at play writing and wrote a drama which was successfully produced. I am also the author of a number of vaudeville successes, notably a fencing playlet, called "An Accident."

The illness of my sister brought me to California. There I became interested as a professional in the artistic possibilities of the motion pictures and concluded to locate in the Golden State, naturally selecting the Selig Polyscope Company as the most desirable association.

It is not only good looks that count for success in motion picture work, one must have physical endurance, a capacity for the hardest kind of labor, and a willingness to follow the mandates of the Director. No matter how long an experience one may have had in dramatic work, no matter how versatile the artist may be, the Director's word in motion picture production is law.

I remember one versatile actor in the cast of "The Circular Staircase," released in five acts as a Selig Red Seal Play. This actor has had many years of experience in the spoken drama. He came to the screen with knowledge of his experience and with knowledge of his own importance. He was not inclined to observe the orders of the Director. The Director selects the types, he selects the costumes to be worn, he orders the entrances and the exits, and little is left to the artist. This particular actor could not understand this procedure. He had been accustomed to having his own way on the stage and there was many a tilt before he could appreciate that movie action must be done as the Director orders, for the Director of Motion Picture production is all responsible and all supreme.

I was delighted to be assigned the character lead as "Aunt Ray Innis" in Mary Roberts Rinehart's great mystery story, "The Circular Staircase." I felt that I was fitted to such a part. As you will probably remember, "Aunt Ray" leases a banker's home. She is a woman with the courage of her own convictions, and when warned to remain away from the summer house she is more resolved to remain right there.

"Aunt Ray" and her servant are aroused at 3 a. m. by the sound of a revolver shot. They venture forth, find the men folks have disappeared, and "Aunt Ray" is horrified to discover a lifeless body huddled in the dark shadows at the foot of the circular staircase from which the five-part production takes its name. The action starts right then and there and is never finished until the final scene where the lovers are reunited.

There is a scene in which I am supposed to do battle with a mysterious stranger in a secret room which I have discovered by means of a tape measure. There is nothing supposititious about this conflict, either. "Put the pepper into this fight," ordered the Director. When it was finished the unfortunate actor in the struggle had his shirt partially torn from his back. To all intents and purposes it was a real fight, and the actor had difficulty in escaping my clutches and springing to the circular staircase. Then to top it all off, the unfortunate individual had to plunge headfirst down the staircase to his supposed death, and he certainly had earned his money after the day's work was concluded.

I think I have put my very best art into the character of "Aunt Ray Innis" in the Selig Red Seal Play, "The Circular Staircase." I have always been a great admirer of Mrs. Rinehart's writings, and there is every opportunity to put forth one's best endeavors in this story.

A majority of the artists say that motion picture acting is the hardest kind of work. I never deemed it so. I try to forget myself in my part, throw my entire personality into the roles I create and I love the work.

However, it is an art that cannot be acquired by any "school" other than the school of long experience. Actors of years of experience on the stage are the more successful because they have a foundation upon which to work.
